DETAILED ACTION0

Claim Objections

Claim 40 is objected to because of the following informalities: "throughbore" (line 4) should be --throughbore--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 31, 32 and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brown (U.S. Patent 5,605,413).

Brown discloses hollow barriers connected end to end by a connecting structure (Figure 6b, for example). There is a seat (Figure 5, for example) on each of the side walls which extends from one end wall to the opposite end wall (Figure 4). There is a barrier reinforcement structure (21, 43), which meets the recitation of a beam, mounted within the seats.

The seat has a generally square configuration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3671

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 33, 35, 36 and 38-42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Brown, as applied above.

Regarding the shape of the barrier reinforcement, it is well known that different configurations of reinforcement provide different properties with respect to structural rigidity, deformation under impact, etc. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have used the configurations as claimed in order to obtain a structure suitable in a particular application.

Further regarding the recitations of aligning with a throughbore, the connections (Figure 6c, for example) of Brown are not patentably distinct from this arrangement.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 43-45 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed July 23, 2004 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
